Uvod/Introduction

Interdisciplinarni doktorski študijski program Umetnost je v slovenskem visokošolskem prostoru novost. Je logični razvojni korak sodobne slovenske umetnosti, ki že od nekdaj ustvarja presežke tako v nacionalnem kot tudi v mednarodnem prostoru. Interdisciplinarni doktorski študij Umetnost je nadaljevanje in nadgradnja drugostopenjskega študija, katerega osrednji del je umetniško raziskovanje in oblikovanje vrhunsko usposobljenih umetnikov različnih področij. Učni izidi interdisciplinarnega doktorskega študija Umetnost se kažejo v vrhunsko usposobljenih ustvarjalcih (na umetniški in teoretski ravni), kompetentnih za mednarodno primerljivo umetniško prakso na izbranem področju.

Interdisciplinarni doktorski študij Umetnost je zasnovan kot raziskovalni program, ki na izbranih področjih umetnosti prispeva nabor metodologij dela, izhajajočih iz praktičnega umetniškega ustvarjanja. Metode raziskovanja so za razvejena področja umetnosti ključnega pomena, saj prinašajo nabor prenosljivih in ponovljivih metod dela, ki jih je mogoče aplicirati po področjih v vedno bolj interdisciplinarnem raziskovalnem okolju. Študij temelji na ustvarjanju novih konceptov, poglobljenih spoznanj, znanj in veščin, ki izražajo iz prakse in temeljijo tako na individualnem kot na timske delu in interdisciplinarnem sodelovanju.

Doktorsko delo vključuje izvirno ustvarjalno prakso in tezo, ki praktično delo preizprašuje, kontekstualizira in kritično reflektira. S tem je doktorskemu študentu omogočeno usvajanje novih razumevanj in ustvarjanje novih znanj, ki ga bodo opremila za aktivno vodenje in delovanje v sodobnih družbenih kontekstih ter ustvarjalnih praksah. Vse naštetu prek umetniške raziskave vodi k novim, občutno izboljšanim uvidom v praktično raziskovanje in delovanje ter k jasnemu razumevanju učinkov takšnega delovanja, z obvezno možnostjo diseminacije za nadaljnjo uporabo pridobljenih rezultatov.

The interdisciplinary doctoral programme in Art is a novelty in the Slovenian higher education landscape. It represents a logical developmental step for contemporary Slovenian art, which has consistently demonstrated noteworthy achievements both nationally and internationally. The programme is a continuation and enhancement of the second-cycle study, with the central focus being artistic research and the cultivation of highly qualified artists from various fields. The learning outcomes of the programme manifest in creators who are exceptionally skilled, both at the artistic and theoretical levels, and are competent for internationally comparable artistic practices in their chosen field.

The interdisciplinary doctoral programme in Art is designed as a research programme that contributes a range of working methodologies in selected areas of art, derived from practical artistic creation. Research methods are crucial for diverse fields of art, as they provide a set of transferable and replicable working methods applicable across disciplines in an increasingly interdisciplinary research environment. The programme is based on creating new concepts, in-depth insights, knowledge, and skills that emerge from practice and are grounded in teamwork and interdisciplinary collaboration.

The doctoral work includes original creative practice and a thesis that critically examines, contextualises, and reflects upon the practical work. In this way, doctoral students can gain new understandings and generate new knowledge that will equip them for active leadership and engagement in contemporary social contexts and creative practices. Through artistic research, all of the above leads to significantly improved insights into practical research and operation, as well as a clear understanding of the effects of such actions, with the mandatory option for disseminating the acquired results for further use.

del predmeta sta tudi raziskovanje filmskih narativnih stilov, kot so primitivni, klasični in modernistični, ter razumevanje pojma časa v avdiovizualni umetnosti.

Poseben poudarek je namenjen tudi preučevanju intermedialnosti med filmskim in nefilmskim ter raziskovanju možnosti prepletanja različnih umetniških medijev.

Predmet je namenjen sintezi razumevanja teoretskih okvirov, ki oblikujejo uprizoritvene umetnosti, ter jih opremiti s kritičnimi orodji za analizo in interpretacijo umetniških del. Doktorandi se spodbujajo k samostojnemu razmišljanju, raziskovanju in refleksiji, kar jim omogoča razvijanje lastnih umetniških pristopov in raziskovalnih projektov v uprizoritvenih in avdiovizualnih umetnostih.

Raziskovanje pri predmetu se lahko izvaja znotraj disciplin uprizoritvenih in avdiovizualnih umetnosti ali interdisciplinarno s prepletom različnih umetnostnih praks ter povezovanjem z drugimi področji študija Umetnosti na 3. stopnji in drugimi znanstvenimi področji.

Naslov: Konceptualizacija arhitekture in krajinske arhitekture kot umetniške prakse

Vsebina:

Predmet obravnava arhitekturni in/ali krajinskoarhitekturni projekt kot orodje za raziskovanje in refleksijo. Vsebina predmeta se povezuje z individualnim delom doktorandov, ki skozi raziskavo različnih primerov razvijajo lastno doktorsko delo. Teorijo svojega dela konkretizirajo s skico ali pilotskim projektom lastne umetniške prakse, ki je uvod v samostojno doktorsko delo.

Predavanja predmeta obravnavajo različne vidike in komponente arhitekturne in krajinskoarhitekturne discipline ter povezujejo kritično teorijo, refleksijo in projektiranje z družbenopolitičnim in kulturnim kontekstom, v primeru krajinske arhitekture pa nujno tudi z geografskim. Predmet je osredotočen na oblikovanje arhitekturnega/krajinskoarhitekturnega problema ter na odnos do drugih disciplin, kot so tehnika, filozofija, umetnost, znanost itd., ter na integrirano rabo drugih disciplin v projektne delu. To se izraža v konceptualizaciji posameznih del ter načinu predstavitve arhitekturne misli.

Doctoral students also focus on filmicity, the philosophy of film and television, explore ontological authenticity, and deal with kinaesthesia and synaesthesia in the performing arts. An important part of the course is also the exploration of film narrative styles such as primitive, classical and modernist, and the understanding of the concept of time in audiovisual art.

Particular emphasis is also given to the study of intermediality between the cinematic and the non-filmic, and to the exploration of the possibilities of interweaving different artistic media.

The course aims to synthesise an understanding of the theoretical frameworks that shape the performing arts and to equip them with critical tools for the analysis and interpretation of works of art. PhD students are encouraged to think, research and reflect independently, enabling them to develop their own artistic approaches and research projects within the performing and audiovisual arts.

Research in the course can be carried out within the disciplines of the performing arts and audiovisual arts or in an interdisciplinary way, interweaving different artistic practices and linking with other areas of study in the third-cycle study programme of Art and other academic fields.

Course title: Conceptualisation of Architecture and Landscape Architecture as an Artistic Practice

Content:

The course deals with the architectural and/or landscape-architectural project as a tool for research and reflection. The content of the course is linked to the individual work of doctoral students, who develop their own doctoral thesis through the research of different cases. They concretise the theory of their work with a sketch or a pilot project of their own artistic practice, which serves as a prelude to their independent doctoral thesis.

The lectures of the course address different aspects and components of the disciplines of architecture and landscape architecture, and relate critical theory, reflection and design to the socio-political and cultural context and, as inevitable in the case of landscape architecture, the geographical one. The course focuses on the formulation of the architectural/landscape-

Doktorandi preučujejo načine usmerjanja arhitektovega znanja in razmišljanja v produkcijo skozi artikulacijo vseh realnih zunanjih dejavnikov ter odzive nanje. Prav tako se preučuje način predstavitve arhitekturnega in krajinskoarhitekturnega projekta (risba, model itd.) v smislu razumevanja in uporabe likovne govorice kot integralnega dela projekta.

Pri predmetu doktorandi analizirajo najpomembnejše tokove, teorije in konkretne projekte, ki so skozi kritični diskurz oblikovali arhitekturno in/ali krajinskoarhitekturno prakso. Prav tako se poudarjata razumevanje temeljev arhitekturnega in krajinskoarhitekturnega oblikovanja ter njuno interdisciplinarno povezovanje pri oblikovanju prostora. Predmet spodbuja tudi refleksijo doktorandovega lastnega dela.

Doktorandi obravnavajo tako historične primere kot tudi primere aktualne produkcije, glede na svoje usmeritve in interese, ki jih pri predmetu izvajajo znotraj področja arhitekture in krajinske arhitekture ali interdisciplinarno s prepletom različnih umetnostnih praks ter povezovanjem z drugimi področji študija Umetnosti na 3. stopnji in drugimi znanstvenimi področji.

Naslov: Tekstilne in oblačilne prakse

Vsebina:

Predmet omogoča doktorandom teoretično refleksijo na področju umetniškega raziskovanja tekstilij in oblačil. Doktorandi analizirajo fenomene in specifične umetniškega področja tekstilij in oblačil ter povezujejo tekstilno in modno oblikovanje s potrošnjo, komunikacijskimi procesi, kulturnimi praksami in sistemi produkcije. Doktorandi se učijo interpretirati in kritično argumentirati, presojeti, razvrščati in potrjevati vsebine ter rezultate svojega dela ter vzpostavljati hipoteze in zaključke, pri čemer poudarjajo interdisciplinarni pristop.

Pri predmetu doktorandi raziskuje povezanost med oblikami potrošnje, odnosi, komunikacijskimi procesi, kulturnimi praksami ter sistemi in strukturami produkcije na tem področju. Pri tem se predmet osredotoča na razumevanje tekstilnega in modnega oblikovanja kot del širšega fenomena, ki odraža globlje in bolj strukturirane družbene spremembe ter dogodke. Proučuje tudi procese in metodologije, ki se uporabljajo v sodobnem modnem in tekstilnem okolju ter umetnosti.

architectural problem and its relationship to other disciplines such as engineering, philosophy, art and science, and integrated application of other disciplines in project work. This is expressed in the conceptualisation of the individual works and the way in which architectural thought is presented.

The doctoral students study the ways in which the architect's knowledge and thinking are channelled into production through the articulation of, and responses to, all real external factors. The way in which an architectural and landscape-architectural project is presented (drawing, model, etc.) is also studied in terms of understanding and using visual language as an integral part of the project.

In the course, doctoral students analyse the most important currents, theories and concrete projects that have shaped architecture and/or landscape architecture through critical discourse. An understanding of the foundations of architectural and landscape-architectural design and their interdisciplinary integration in the design of space is also emphasised. The course also encourages reflection on the doctoral student's own work.

Doctoral students consider both historical examples and examples of current production, according to their own orientations and interests, which they pursue within the field of architecture and landscape architecture or in an interdisciplinary way by interweaving different artistic practices and linking them to other areas of study in the third-cycle study programme of Art and other academic fields.

Course title: Textile and Clothing Practices

Content:

The course provides doctoral students with theoretical reflection in the field of artistic research on textiles and clothing. Doctoral students analyse the phenomena and specificities of the artistic field of textiles and clothing and relate textile and fashion design to consumption, communication processes, cultural practices and production systems. Doctoral students learn to interpret and critically argue, judge, classify and validate the content and results of their work and to establish hypotheses and conclusions, emphasising an interdisciplinary approach.

In the course, doctoral students explore the interconnections between forms of consumption, attitudes, communication processes, cultural Posebno pozornost namenja sodobnim praksam in akterjem na področju modnega in tekstilnega oblikovanja, pri čemer izvaja ciljno usmerjene študije primerov. Hkrati sledi sodobnim trendom v oblikovanju tekstilij in oblačil ter se pogloblja v sodobne tekstilne in oblačilne tehnologije.

Poseben poudarek je na sodobnih družbenih gibanjih, zlasti trajnostnem oblikovanju, ki ima pomembno vlogo na področju tekstilnega in modnega oblikovanja. Preučujejo se različna področja na tem področju in raziskujejo možnosti povezovanja v interdisciplinarne prakse, kar omogoča inovativne in celovite pristope k ustvarjanju.

Analiza specifičnih antropoloških in psihosocioloških teorij, ki se štejejo za ključne pri razvoju modnih študij, je pomemben del raziskovalnega dela doktoranda. S tem pridobljeno znanje mu omogoča boljše razumevanje in raziskovanje področja ter prispeva k razvoju in napredku v modni industriji.

Doktorandovo individualno umetniškoraiziskovalno projektno delo je priložnost za povezovanje že pridobljenega znanja, preverjanje in nadgradnjo. Pri svojem delu posebno pozornost namenja umetniškoraiziskovalni etiki ter se osredotoča na kritično refleksijo ter spoštovanje humanističnih vrednot.

Raziskovanje pri predmetu se lahko izvaja znotraj področja tekstilne in oblačilne prakse ali interdisciplinarno s prepletom različnih umetnostnih praks ter povezovanjem z drugimi področji študija Umetnosti na 3. stopnji in drugimi znanstvenimi področji.

Naslov: Raziskovanje v umetnosti I

Vsebina:

Raziskovanje v umetnosti I zagotavlja doktorandu na začetni stopnji reflektiran in sistematičen uvid v metodološko naravo in metodološke posebnosti raziskovalnega dela na področju umetnosti. V tem pogledu je predmet vsebinsko zasnovan kot propedeutika predmeta Raziskovanje v umetnosti II, katerega temeljni nameni so aplikativne, tj. področnospecifične narave.

Predmet ponuja doktorandu uvid v interno naravo fenomenov, kakršni so: problemska situacija, formuliranje raziskovalnih problemov in hipotez, načrtovanje in izvedba individualnega umetniškega practices and systems and structures of production in the field. In doing so, it focuses on understanding textile and fashion design as part of a broader phenomenon that reflects deeper and more structured social changes and events. The course also examines the processes and methodologies used in contemporary fashion, textile and art environments. It pays particular attention to contemporary practices and actors in the field of fashion and textile design, carrying out targeted case studies. At the same time, it follows contemporary trends in textile and clothing design, and delves into contemporary textile and clothing technologies.

Particular emphasis is placed on contemporary social movements, especially sustainable design, which plays an important role in the field of textile and fashion design. The different fields in this field are examined and the possibilities of integrating them into interdisciplinary practices are explored, allowing for innovative and holistic approaches to creation.

The analysis of specific anthropological and psycho-sociological theories, which are considered key in the development of fashion studies, is an important part of doctoral students' research work. The knowledge gained through this allows them to better understand and explore the field and to contribute to the development and advancement of the fashion industry.

A doctoral student's individual artistic research project work is an opportunity to integrate, verify and build on the knowledge they already acquired. In their work, they should devote special attention to artistic research ethics and focuses on critical reflection and respect for humanistic values.

Research in the course can be carried out within the field of textile and clothing practice or in an interdisciplinary way by interweaving different artistic practices and linking with other areas of study in the third-cycle study programme of Art and other academic fields.

Course title: Research in Art I

Content:

At its initial stage, Research in Art I provides doctoral students with a reflective and systematic insight into the methodological nature and methodological features of the research work in the area of art. In this respect, the course is raziskovalnega projekta, evalvacija raziskovalnih rezultatov, prezentacija raziskovalnih rezultatov v strokovni javnosti itd. Predmet opravljajo študentje vseh področij programa.

Naslov: Raziskovanje v umetnosti II

Vsebina:

Predmet Raziskovanje v umetnosti II je praktična aplikacija vsebin, konceptov in znanj, ki jih je študent pridobil pri predmetu Raziskovanje v umetnosti I. Obsega področja likovna umetnost, oblikovanje (vizualne komunikacije, industrijsko oblikovanje, unikatno oblikovanje), glasba, gledališče, film, radio in televizija, arhitektura in krajinska arhitektura ter oblikovanje tekstilij in oblačil. Glede na naravo ustvarjalnega dela v umetnosti, ki ima karakter procesualnosti in razvijanja ter obliko individualne ali timske kreacije, tvorita področnospecifični okvir raziskovanja na tretji stopnji izobraževanja umetnosti dve koordinirani metodološki matrici: (i) matrica akcijskega raziskovanja (action research) in (ii) matrica posebnih metod raziskovalnega dela na posameznem umetniškem področju.

Akcijsko raziskovanje je oblika praktičnega raziskovanja za ugotavljanje, odkrivanje in refleksijo dejstev, ciljev in problemov, ki jih zaznavajo posamezniki v svoji lastni ustvarjalni praksi (practice based research). Raziskovalec proučuje in ugotavlja vzroke svojih ravnanj in s tem odpira vrata netrivialnim spremembam ter napredku v svojem delovanju. Pri tretjestopenjskem raziskovanju ima akcijsko raziskovanje na področju umetnosti naslednje značilnosti: ideje in problemi izvirajo iz konkretnih potreb prakse; cilji niso v preverjanju teorij, ampak v spreminjanju konteksta prakticiranja; pridobljeni rezultati imajo obliko aplikativnih operatorjev, ki omogočajo neposredno uporabo v praksi; raziskovalne situacije so obravnavane celostno; raziskovalec je aktivno udeležen v procesih in je v interaktivnih povezavah z drugimi udeleženci v teh procesih (mentor, kustos, uporabniki, publika ipd.).

Posebne metode raziskovalnega dela v pedagoški proces prinašajo dispozicionalna, tj. praktična, spretnostna in aktivno verificirana znanja. Pedagoški potencial akcijskega raziskovanja in področnospecifičnih metod raziskovalnega dela prihaja do izraza skozi praktično metodološko podporo doktorandovemu individualnemu raziskovalnemu delu (uvidevanje in formuliranje problemov, eksperimentiranje z alternativami, designed as the introduction to Research in Art II, whose basic aim is of an applicative, i.e. area-specific nature.

The course provides an insight into the internal nature of phenomena such as problem situation, formulation of research problems and hypotheses, design and performance of an individual artistic research project, evaluation of the research results, presentation of the research results to the professional public, etc. The course is taken by the students from all study fields of the programme.

Course title: Research in Art II

Content:

Research in Art II is a practical application of the content, concepts and knowledge acquired during the course in Research in Art I. It covers the fields of fine arts, design (visual communications, industrial design, applied arts), music, theatre, film, radio and television, architecture, landscape architecture and textile and clothing design. In line with the nature of the creative work in art, whose characteristics are processuality and development, taking the forms of individual or team creation, two coordinated methodological matrices provide a field-specific framework for the research at the third level of arts education: (i) the matrix of action research and (ii) the matrix of specific methods of the research work in a particular art field.

Action research is a form of practical research aimed at identifying, establishing and reflecting about the facts, objectives and problems that individuals perceive in their own artistic practices (practice-based research). Researchers examine and determine the causes of their actions, thus opening the door to non-trivial changes and progress in their work. In the frame of the third-level research, action research has the following characteristics in the field of art: the ideas and problems stem from the concrete needs of practice; the objectives do not refer to the verification of theories but to the change in the context of practice; the obtained results are in the form of applicative operators allowing their direct use in practice; research situations are treated holistically; researchers are actively involved in the processes and interactively connected with the other participants in these processes (mentor, curator, users, audience, etc.).

Special methods of research work bring dispositional, i.e. practical, skill-related and oblikovanje netrivialnih alternativ, odločanje med alternativami, iskanje rešitev druge vrste /second order changes po Watzlawicku/, metodološka refleksija izvedbenih etap raziskovalnega projekta ipd.).

Kot aplikativna infrastruktura umetniškega raziskovanja so področnospecifične metode striktno vezane na konkretne raziskovalne problemske situacije, ki jih v pedagoški proces vnašajo študenti s svojimi raziskovalnimi problemi in vsebinami. Študentu po eni strani pomagajo reševati konkretne raziskovalne probleme, po drugi pa ga metodično usposablja za raziskovalno soočanje z drugimi, vnaprej nikoli povsem predvidljivimi problemskimi situacijami. Področne specifikacije teh metod so na opisni ravni vidne le delno, natančno razvidne pa so iz navedene bibliografije po področjih, predvsem pa v neposrednih aplikativnih pogojih, ki jih definirajo umetniški izrazni mediji s svojimi predpostavkami in komunikacijsko naravo. Predpostavka izvedbe predmeta je individualno delo s študentom pri njegovem raziskovalnem projektu.

Naslov: Teorije umetnosti

Vsebina:

Namen predmeta je razviti in spodbujati kritično refleksijo o umetnostnih praksah. To po eni strani terja, da se študentje pregledno seznanijo z nekaterimi historično najvplivnejšimi teorijami umetnosti kakor tudi z raznolikostjo sodobnih refleksij o umetnosti, po drugi strani pa terja kritični razmislek o izbranih posameznih primerih sodobnih umetnostnih praks. Glede na to, da gre za skupni predmet za vse različne usmeritve, bodo izbrani primeri iz različnih umetnostnih praks, predmet pa bo navajal študente posameznih usmeritev k temu, da se poglobljajo tudi v umetnostna dela drugih področij in se podajo v premislek namenov, dometa in konteksta umetnostnih prizadevanj in njihovega širšega družbenega in miselnega okvira. Namen predmeta je dalje spodbujati kreativnost in inovativnost, hkrati pa opremiti študente s kritičnim miselnim orodjem za vrednotenje lastne prakse. Pri tem ne gre zgolj za filozofski in širše teoretski premislek o umetnosti, temveč tudi za obratni razmislek o tem, kako umetnost sama misli in proizvaja koncepte, tako da se teorija lahko od nje uči.

Poseben premislek bo predmet namenil sedanjemu položaju umetnosti v treh pogledih: vloga umetnosti po izteku modernizma; vloga actively verified knowledge into the pedagogical process. The pedagogical potential of action research and field-specific methods of research becomes instrumental through a practical methodological support provided to individual doctoral research (identifying and formulating problems, experimenting with alternatives, designing non-trivial alternatives, deciding between different alternatives, searching for second-order solutions / second-order changes according to Watzlawick/, methodologically reflecting on the performance stages of a research project, etc.).

Constituting an applicative infrastructure of artistic research, field-specific methods are strictly linked to concrete research problem situations that students bring into the pedagogical process with their research problems and topics. On the one hand, these methods help students solve entirely concrete research problems, on the other hand, they provide for the students' methodological training for research confrontations with other, never entirely predictable problem situations. The field specifics of these methods are only partly noticeable at the descriptive level, but they become more obvious from the reading list below, covering different fields, and, above all, from direct applicative conditions, defined by artistic expression media with their presuppositions and communicational nature. The basis for the course realisation is individual work with students focussing on their research projects.

Course title: Theories of Art

Content:

The aim of the course is to develop and to encourage critical reflection of art practices. This requires, on the one hand, that the students acquire a general knowledge about the most influential theories of art and about the diversity of contemporary reflections on art, and, on the other hand, a critical assessment of selected particular cases of contemporary art practices. Given that this is a general course intended for all different programmes, the cases will be chosen from different art practices and students of different programmes will be encouraged to address artworks from other artistic fields and to reflect on the aims, impact and context of artistic endeavours and their wider social and conceptual frame. The aim of the course is also to encourage creativity and invention and at the same time to equip students with the critical conceptual tools for umetnosti v globaliziranem svetu; umetnost pred izzivi novih tehnologij.

Naslov: Umetniški seminar 1 in 2

Vsebinsko dovršenost študijskega programa poleg obveznih temeljnih predmetov ter skupnih metodoloških in teoretskih predmetov, ki zagotavljajo temeljna vedenja, vsebinsko nadgrajujejo umetniški seminarji. Ti omogočajo ožjo usmeritev v izbrano smer študija, ki jo določata tema in področje umetniškega raziskovanja v polju doktorskega dela.

Umetniški seminarji se bodo izvajali za skupine študentov iste usmeritve ali kot individualno delo s študenti, na organizirane seminarje pa bodo vabljeni tudi študenti drugih področij. Umetniška seminarja 1 in 2 namreč omogočata in spodbujata povezovanje vseh desetih umetniških študijskih področij. Zasnova obeh predmetov omogoča kar največjo stopnjo prilagajanja študentu in temi njegovih umetniških vsebin. Opisano se zrcali v vsebinski fleksibilnosti, ažurnem vključevanju najnovejših raziskovalnih spoznanj in študijske literature v pedagoški proces, sprotnem prilagajanju smiselno izbranih metod in procesov umetniškega raziskovanja ter kritičnem vključevanju razumevanja aktualnih problemov v specifični študentovega umetniškega področja.

Na umetniških seminarjih se bodo doktorski študenti lahko srečevali z različnimi strokovnjaki, predavatelji in drugimi študenti ter predstavljali, argumentirali in reflektirali svoje raziskovalne projekte, ideje, napredek in rezultate ter prejeli povratne informacije od nosilcev in izvajalcev predmeta, kot tudi drugih študentov. Umetniški seminarji so hkrati priložnost tako za povezovanje s kolegi z drugih umetniških in znanstvenih področij kot tudi za interdisciplinarno umetniško raziskovanje, ki lahko pripomore k širšemu razumevanju problema in poglobi doktorandov umetniško raziskovalni proces.

Zunanji izbirni predmet se od umetniških seminarjev razlikuje predvsem v določilu, da ga kandidat skupaj z mentorjem izbere praviloma na eni od priznanih univerz, s čimer dobi kandidat tudi možnost umetniškega dela v tujini in spoznavanja različnih umetniško raziskovalnih praks. Doktorandi si lahko v dogovoru z mentorjem in s koordinatorjem umetniškega področja izberejo za 5 evaluating their own practices. The aim is not merely to provide a philosophical and wider theoretical reflection on art, but also to consider the reverse reflection about the ways in which art itself thinks and produces concepts, so that theory also has to learn from it.

Particular focus will be given to the present situation of art in three respects: the role of art after the demise of modernism; the role of art in a globalised world; and art confronting the challenges presented by new technologies.

Course title: Artistic Seminar 1 and 2

In addition to the compulsory core subjects and the joint methodological and theoretical subjects that provide the basic knowledge, the content of the study programme is enhanced by artistic seminars. These provide a narrower focus on the chosen field of study, which is determined by the theme and area of artistic research in the field of doctoral thesis.

The artistic seminars will be held for groups of students of the same major or as individual work with students, and students from other disciplines will also be invited to participate in the organised seminars. Artistic Seminars 1 and 2 enable and encourage the integration of all ten artistic fields of study. The approach of both courses allows for the greatest possible degree of adaptation to the student and the subject of their artistic content. This is reflected in the flexibility of the content, the up-to-date integration of the latest research findings and study literature into the pedagogical process, the ongoing adaptation of meaningfully selected methods and processes of artistic research, and the critical integration of an understanding of current issues within the specifics of the student's artistic field.

In the framework of the art seminars, PhD students will have the opportunity to meet with various experts, lecturers and other students to present, argue and reflect on their research projects, ideas, progress and results, and to receive feedback from the course tutors, lecturers and other students. The art seminars are also an opportunity to network with colleagues from other artistic and scientific fields, as well as to engage in interdisciplinary artistic research that can contribute to a broader understanding of the problem and deepen PhD students' artistic research process.

Načini ocenjevanja/Grading system

V skladu s Statutom Univerze v Ljubljani se uspeh na izpitu ocenjuje z ocenami od 5 do 10, pri čemer za pozitivno oceno šteje ocena od 6 do 10. Študijske obveznosti se lahko ocenjujejo tudi z ocenami: opravljen z odliko, opravljen ali ni opravljen.

Umetniško delo in znanje študentov se preverja in ocenjuje po posameznih predmetih in drugih učnih enotah, kot to predvideva posamezen učni načrt.

In accordance with the Statute of the University of Ljubljana, examination results are graded on a scale from 5 to 10, with passing grades considered to be from 6 to 10. Academic requirements can also be assessed with the grades: passed with distinction, passed or failed.

The artistic work and knowledge of students are evaluated and assessed for each subject and other learning units, as stipulated in the respective curriculum.

Pogoji za dokončanje študija/Conditions for completing the programme

Pogoji za dokončanje študija

Študent mora za dokončanje študija in pridobitev umetniškega naslova doktor/doktorica umetnosti uspešno opraviti vse s programom določene študijske obveznosti in uspešno javno zagovarjati doktorsko delo v skupnem obsegu 240 ECTS. Obveznost doktoranda je najmanj ena javna predstavitev rezultatov umetniškoraiziskovalnega dela (ob oddaji doktorskega dela v oceno), ki jo posamezne umetniške discipline priznavajo kot ustrezno. Doktorand mora najpozneje ob oddaji doktorskega dela v oceno predložiti dokazila o prvem avtorstvu umetniškega dela in o njegovi javni predstavitvi.

Doktorsko delo

Doktorsko delo je rezultat večletnega umetniškoraiziskovalnega projekta. Pomeniti mora izviren prispevek k umetnosti, ki ga je pozitivno ocenila komisija za spremljanje doktorskega študenta. Doktorsko delo mora predvsem slediti trem načelom: obravnavani problem mora biti relevanten, študent mora obvladati metodologijo umetniškega raziskovanja in rezultati morajo pomeniti izviren prispevek k umetnosti.

Doktorsko delo je samostojen in izviren prispevek k izbrani temi umetniškega področja. Doktorsko delo je napisano v slovenskem jeziku z obsežnim povzetkom v angleškem jeziku.

Senat UL lahko izjemoma odobri izdelavo doktorskega dela v angleškem jeziku: če je kandidat tujec, če sta tujca kandidatov mentor ali somentor ali če je tujec član komisije.

Conditions for completing the programme

To successfully complete the study and obtain the artistic title of Doctor of Arts, a student must successfully fulfil all program-specified study requirements and publicly defend their doctoral work, amounting to a total of 240 ECTS. It is mandatory for the doctoral candidate to present the results of their artistic research work publicly at least once (when submitting the doctoral work for evaluation), as recognized by individual artistic disciplines. The doctoral candidate must provide evidence of being the primary author of the artistic work and its public presentation no later than when submitting the doctoral work for evaluation.

Doctoral thesis

The doctoral work is the result of a multi-year artistic research project and must represent an original contribution to the arts, positively assessed by the committee monitoring the doctoral student. The doctoral work must primarily adhere to three principles: the addressed problem must be relevant, the student must master the methodology of artistic research, and the results must constitute an original contribution to the arts.

The doctoral thesis is an independent and original contribution to the chosen topic within the artistic field. The doctoral thesis is written in the Slovenian language with an extensive summary in the English language.

Diplomanti bodo delovali tako na ključnih področjih gospodarstva v polju kulturnih in kreativnih industrij ter umetnostnega trga kot tudi v obrtni industriji in trgovskem sektorju (npr. kot svetovalci, strokovnjaki). Zaposljivi bodo v oblikovalskih, arhitekturnih, filmskih, umetniških, glasbenih, gledaliških, igralničarskih, reklamnih studiih in drugih gospodarskih subjektih, ki izvajajo kreativne procese. Doktorji umetnosti se bodo sposobni umestiti v razvoj (gospodarstvo), trženje (ekonomska uspešnost) in na področje razumevanja uporabnika (humanizem). Njihovo usmerjenost v gospodarstvo omogoča interdisciplinarnost umetniških strok kot dejavnost, ki kar največ pripomore k višji kakovosti in konkurenčnosti izdelkov, storitev in sistemov ter s tem k višji dodani vrednosti. Ustvarjeni kulturni in umetniški presežki so eden ključnih spodbujevalcev uspešnosti gospodarstva ter nosilcev kulture in identitete družbe.

Negospodarstvo

Doktorji umetnosti interdisciplinarnega študijskega programa Umetnost bodo delovali na ključnih področjih v negospodarstvu, povsod tam, kjer se v procese vključujejo umetnost in sorodne oblike kulturnih in kreativnih dejavnosti. Suvereno bodo prevzemali delovna mesta v javnih zavodih (muzeji, galerije, filharmonije), javni in državni upravi, nevladnih in neprofitnih organizacijah. Zaposlili se bodo lahko v institucijah, ki zahtevajo umetniško izobrazbo, ali institucijah, ki se ukvarjajo z umetniškim raziskovanjem, produkcijo in poustvarjanjem (orkestri, zbori), tako v mednarodnem kot v nacionalnem okviru.

Doktorji umetnosti bodo zaposljivi v kulturnih institucijah na področjih umetniške dejavnosti, medijev. Mednarodne izmenjave/International exchanges
Interdisciplinarni doktorski študijski program Umetnost je zasnovan tako, da omogoča mednarodno izmenjavo na vseh ravneh izvedbe programa, od umetniškoražiskovalnega in eksperimentalnega dela do izmenjave predmetov primerljivih programov drugih univerz na podlagi mednarodnih pogodb in bilateralnih dogovorov. Mednarodna izmenjava je mogoča tudi prek sodelovanja gostujočih profesorjev na članicah, ki izvajajo študij, in sodelovanja v programih mobilnosti za študente (Erasmus, Socrates, Ceepus in drugih). Program je odprt tudi za tuje študente. Sodelovanje z visokošolskimi in raziskovalnimi ustanovami v tujini poteka v okviru umetniškoražiskovalnih projektov, s sodelovanjem tujih profesorjev pri posameznih predmetih in (so)mentorstvih ter pri ocenjevanju in zagovorih doktorskih disertacij. Univerza v Ljubljani sodeluje s številnimi tujimi univerzami, s katerimi ima sklenjene sporazume o sodelovanju in na katerih poteka mednarodno sodelovanje tudi na področjih umetnosti. O primerljivosti kakovosti predmetov znotraj programov drugih univerz odloča programski svet. Mednarodna izmenjava poteka na podlagi mednarodnih pogodb in dogovorov, ki so jih podpisale Univerza v Ljubljani in njene članice.	The interdisciplinary doctoral programme in Art is designed to facilitate international exchange at all levels of program implementation, from artistic research and experimental work to the exchange of subjects comparable to programmes of other universities based on international agreements and bilateral agreements.
